Meeting God on the Mountain

I lift up my eyes to the hills - where does my help come from?
My help comes from the Lord,
the Maker of heaven and earth.
Psalm 121:1-2

We will begin a new sermon series this Sunday. Mountains play an important role in God's relationship with His people: From Abraham to the Sermon on the Mount, God has used mountains to communicate. We will spend time looking at various "mountain top" experiences recorded for us and gain insight into God's desired relationship with us both personally and as His church. I hope and pray that this study will be meaningful and useful as we strive to deepen our relationship with God.

Our first lesson will come from Deuteronomy 26:16-27:13 and Joshua 8:30-35. If you have the opportunity, read these accounts. It will better prepare you for our first meeting with God on the mountain. See you Sunday!

- Tim
