Number 39

"This Time Was Different"

It was a surreal feeling sitting around my mother's bed. I can't count the number of times I've sat with families as they anticipated the passing of their loved one. I've watched as they have cried. I have tried to offer words of comfort and support. But this time it was my loved one. And the words just became more personal.

First, I would like to say how much I appreciate all the prayers, thoughts, messages, etc. that me and my family received from this church family. You all are so special. Norman used to say that he didn't know how people got through times like these without the resources God provides, and he was so right. That song we sing that says, "We are part of a family", is so on point. Thank you.

Secondly, times like these are a reminder and a reinforcement that "This world is not our home". This world is but a journey to a magnificent destination. My mother had faithfully lived that journey and now has reached that destination; and that brings comfort.

It is also a comfort to know that she is so much better off. She had struggled for the last few years with injuries and illnesses. She was tired and worn out. Now she is, "better by far", as Paul would say. She is in a place where there is no more pain, suffering, sickness, crying or death.

And she waits. What a comfort to know that through our faith, we will once again be reunited with our loved ones for eternity. Praise God for all His promises!

I know that these are words that I have said a hundred times or more, but today they are so much more meaningful to me.

Thank you again for your love and support and thank you for just letting me ramble for a while.

- Tim
