"Josiah was Eight Years Old When He Became King"

Believe it or not, The Lion King is one of my favorite all-time movies. Perhaps because I was so often exposed to it during the girl's childhood. I also made my granddaughter go with me to the re-make last year even though she had already seen it. But I just like it. In the early part of the movie, a young Simba bemoans that fact that he, "Just can't wait to be king." Zazu tries to explain that he just isn't ready. Josiah was just 8 years old when he became king of Judah. Ready or not! His father, Amon, had been assassinated by his own officials after reigning for just 2 years. Now, at 8, ready or not, Josiah was king.

Josiah's reign had all the potential for disaster. It had been years since Judah had been faithful to God. Josiah's grandfather, Manasseh, had been one of the most wicked kings in the history of Judah and reigned for 55 years. He had not only allowed the worship of pagan gods, but had participated in it. He brought idols and detestable practices into the temple. He offered human sacrifices, including his own son. He eventually turned to God after being carried away by the Assyrians, but the damage to Judah had been done. In the two short years Josiah's father reigned, he continued the wicked ways of Manasseh. So, here was a boy of 8, with 57 years of wicked heritage serving as king.

But none of this deterred him. At 16, it says he began to seek God. At 20, he began to purge the land of all the foreign gods and practices of the pagan worshippers. At 26, he began to rebuild the temple. When the Book of the Law was discovered during the temple repairs, it was brought to Josiah. He read it and tore his robes. He called all the people of Judah together and read it aloud to them. He didn't have someone else do it. He did it. He then began following the Law and requiring all of Judah to follow it as well. He took his devotion and service to God personally and he shared it with others.

The reign of Josiah serves as one of the few bright spots in the history of Judah. A brief respite from the idolatry and wickedness that was prevalent. It says that there was, "No other king like him who turned to the Lord as he did." There may be many excuses for us not to serve God: family history, the state of our society, age (young or old). But we should learn from an eight year old boy. We should purge our lives and hearts of all things that threaten our service, devotion and worship to God.

-Tim
