“Blessed”

As Jesus started His sermon on the mount, He began with what we have come to know as the “Beatitudes”. Each of these begins with Jesus saying, “Blessed are the ...”. The word “blessed” carries with it the idea of true joy and peace. Sometimes we lose the meaning when we place the old English pronunciation on the word. Think of it in one syllable, not two. “Blessed”, not “Bless-ed”. (This works better in spoken language than written!). Jesus is saying that putting each of these beatitudes into practice in our lives will produce a blessing from God: A joy and peace that can only come from God in spite of circumstances and surroundings. It is more than worldly “happiness”. The root of happiness is “hap”, which suggests happenings and happenstance. Jesus is promising a joy that is from the inside; from spiritual blessings received from God.

Look at how Jesus uses physical terms and turns them spiritual: poor, mourning, hunger and thirst, etc. He is offering us spiritual blessings if we adopt the beatitudes into our lifestyle. As we study these beatitudes on Sunday mornings, which of these do you, I, need to work on the most?

“Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth.

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.

Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God.

Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.”

May we live lives that are blessed and are a blessing to others.

PRAYING FOR THE SICK

Kortne Craig's baby daughter, Sailor is home after being found unresponsive on Tuesday. She was rushed to the ER. She is doing well. Jeannie Williams is in Regional Hospital with a cyst on her lung. Please pray for her. Jimmy Gilliam will have gall bladder surgery tomorrow (Friday) at St. Michael's in Texarkana. Maxie Laney had surgery on Tuesday and is home doing well. Syble Baldwin, sister of our Melba Williams & Bobby Harrell, is under hospice care at Windsor Place. Kenia Gibbs is improving. She has diverticulitis. Sherry Robinson is now home. Jerry Walker has improved from pneumonia and the shingles. Jimmy Walker has improved also. Casey Schubert's aunt, Barbara Richburg, has been diagnosed with liver cancer.
